Teacher Aide Knowledge and Competencies

Literacy

Able to guide and support children develop speaking, listening, reading, writing and visual language skills. Working with my six year old daughter Melanie, have successfully helped her develop those skills and to become an active and competent in language development- her ability to tell stories has progressed.

Numeracy

Completed a numeracy assignment using games (Hide and Seek Numbers and Mancala) and created an activity called "A Whale of a Time" to encourage year 3 and Year 4 children to build on existing knowledge and experiences and improved their confidence in numeracy. Encouraged and enabled students to ask questions that helped them towards solving mathematical problems in a fun way.

Working in the Learning Environment

Practical understanding and knowledge of the New Zealand Curriculum. This includes the roles and responsibilities of a Teacher Aide. Have a practical knowledge and understanding of the key competencies which include: thinking, using language, symbols and texts, managing self, relating to others, participating and contributing.

Children's Literature and the Library

Practical teaching strategies to support sharing and reading to and with children.

Health Issues for Children

Gained knowledge of a variety of health issues that can impact on and affect children - includes bullying, child abuse, poor nutrition, difficulties in making and maintaining friendships, poor self esteem and grief. Able to support children to manage and deal with these issues, if they arise.
