About Us

At Contented, we're deeply committed to being a human-centered company, dedicated to our customers, community, and the valued partnerships we hold across the city. As an AI company it is even more important that we are able to create deep trust with our customers. Participating in the Canterbury Trusted process was an incredible experience for us. This gave us the opportunity to share every aspect of our business through the due diligence process, and involved our team, customers, and suppliers.

Hannah Hardy-Jones,
Co-founder

“The Canterbury Trusted process helped us reflect on and highlight our dedication to quality, transparency, and care for everyone we work with. We're proud to have earned this recognition, which reinforces our relationship with Business Canterbury and strengthens our commitment to supporting the wider Canterbury region”
